

Please continue to supervise broad band pricing policies that major carriers offer to independent ISPs. This will allow me to give my business to a company that wants it! Comcast wouldn't sell me cable modem service without a TV cable subscription, and SBC wouldn't sell me DSL because of my location. My independent ISP, Sonic.net, said they'd make me circuit if I didn't mind waiting a few days. Hallelujah! The service is speedy, reliable, and worth every penny. When I've needed support it has always been fast and friendly.
